INTRODUCTION

Baldwin's have dealt in war medals and awards from the earliest times. A H Baldwin, our founder, included them in his early price lists, in the late 19th Century, before much of the material in this catalogue even existed. In a photograph of him outside his first shop in Duncannon Street, taken c1900, medals can be seen displayed on strings across the shop window. Regular lists followed. Even as late as the early 1970s, we still issued occasional medal lists, which were eagerly anticipated by our customers. When we closed the department in 1997, this was seen as a temporary measure while we focused on other areas of our business. The stock was effectively mothballed, although some items were added when purchasing opportunities presented themselves. We have now decided that we will not reopen the retail department. As a result, we are holding this auction of a considerable part of the stock. There will be something to interest every collector in this field. We hope that this will be the first of a series of regular war medal and decoration auctions to be held by Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. It has been a pleasure to renew contact with many old friends. We look forward to discussing with you possible consignments for future auctions.

Edward Baldwin

CAMPAIGN MEDALS from 1793

- *15 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Nymphé 18 June 1793 (John Gaze), a few light obverse marks with a small scratch after REGINA, otherwise better than very fine and excessively rare, only four awarded for this first frigate action of the War and also the earliest Naval General Service medal clasp for service at sea. £7000-10000

For the capture of the French 40-gun frigate La Cléopâtre by H M S Nymphé, 40 guns, Captain Edward Pellew, off Start Point, Devon; this was the first sea fight of the Revolutionary Wars, the only earlier clasp for the N.G.S. medal - 15 March Boat Service 1793 - being for a small amphibious operation by boats from H M S Syren landing men ashore to capture the French gun emplacements which were threatening the Dutch fortress of Willemstadt.

During the entire course of the so-called 'Great War', less than twenty actions were fought in the waters immediately surrounding the British Isles; of these, most were significantly off-shore [North Sea, Irish Sea, Channel Approaches, off the Scillies etc.] and only six - including the Nymphé engagement of June 1793 - actually took place within sight of the English mainland.

Whilst all the printed rolls confirm John Gaze, Quarter-Master, H M S Nymphé for this historic encounter, they also state his entitlement to three other clasps, namely Indefatigable 20 April 1796, Indefatigable 13 Jan'y. 1797 - both of which are very rare - and Algiers where he acted as Additional Master on the flagship Queen Charlotte. Enigmatically, Captain Douglas-Morris comments in his roll that "it appears probable that the claimant received four single clasp medals for these four actions", a remark repeated by Colin Message in his more recent roll published in 1996. A thorough search of the Douglas-Morris Papers held in the library of the Royal Naval Museum (Portsmouth) failed to identify the source of this statement but, fortuitously, the cataloguer was then able to study A.J. Newnham's personal copy of the N.G.S. Roll he published in 1933. There, in Newnham's own hand, were the details of the sales of three of John Gaze's four 1-clasp medals (excluding the one for Algiers), alongside which Newnham had written "these medals have turned up separately and appear to be genuine; if so he had four." Whilst not conclusive proof, the information speaks for itself and appears to validate what seems a remarkable series of errors by the issuing authorities. This particular medal with the Nymphé clasp last appeared for auction in March 1902 when it sold for £35, an enormous sum by the standards of the time.

As a final postscript, it is also worth noting that the cataloguer has been unable to trace any of the other three Nymphé clasps. Captain Douglas-Morris, whose collection is at Portsmouth, did not possess one; the collection at the National Maritime Museum does not hold one, and nor has one been found in any of several significant private collections.

- 16 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, 1 June 1794 (Thomas Pike), extremely fine and lightly toned.

FLEET ACTION (approximately 540 clasps awarded): Thomas Pike is confirmed on the published rolls as Captain's Servant, H M S Valiant [3 / 17 clasps to the ship].

Commander Thomas Pike was born at Exeter in 1782 and entered the Royal Navy as Servant to Captain Keats, H M S London - 78 guns, in September 1793. Subsequently a Volunteer 1st Class in Valiant - 74, he was present at the 'Glorious 1st of June' (1794), the first fleet action of the Wars with Revolutionary France which had begun the previous year. Thereafter serving in Téméraire -98, in the West Indies, in the Channel and off Ireland, he was appointed Midshipman in Lord Keith's flagship Culloden - 74, when hostilities with France resumed in October 1803. Transferred into Canopus -80, shortly afterwards, he was with Nelson's fleet in pursuit of Villeneuve to the Caribbean and back but returned home in July 1805 to take his examination, thus missing Trafalgar. Confirmed as a Lieutenant in March 1807, by which time he was aboard the Tonnant -80, flagship of Rear-Admiral Harvey. After a further spell in the Channel, he went to the Baltic before returning to Home Waters in March 1811. Several other appointments followed, including Agent for Transports Afloat (Aug. 1813 - Oct. 1814), until, in 1821, he joined the Coast Guard. Between November 1822 and December 1826, he commanded the revenue cruiser Diligence and then took charge of the Semaphore Station at Lump's Fort until December 1831. Unemployed thereafter, he was made Commander in 1847 at which time he retired from the service. See O'Byrne's Naval Biographical Dictionary for further details, including the rather poignant story of his thwarted promotion at the hands of H.R.H. the Duke of Clarence (later King William IV) and Vice-Admiral Thomas Foley (one of Nelson's most celebrated 'band of brothers').

- 17 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, 23rd June 1795 (William Holmes), good very fine.
£1000-1200

FLEET ACTION - for Admiral Lord Bridport's defeat of the French fleet off the Isle de Groix (approximately 177 clasps awarded). William Holmes is confirmed on the published rolls as Able Seaman, H M S Colossus [-/8 clasps to the ship]. Several recipients of this name on the roll, mostly Syria men.

- 18 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Acre 30 May 1799 (John Williams), nearly extremely fine, with old blue toning.
£400-600

For the defence of Acre after a siege by Napoleon's Egyptian Army (approximately 41 clasps awarded).

John Williams is confirmed on the published rolls as Able Seaman, H M S Tigre [5 / 22 clasps to the ship], with an additional entitlement to the clasp for Egypt. Message concludes that this recipient probably received two separate medals but his roll lists many other recipients named John Williams entitled to a variety of clasps, both common and rare.

ex Glendining's, October 1949.

- 19 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Gut of Gibraltar 12 July 1801 (Frank Cutter), polished but nearly very fine.
£1000-1200

For the action with the Spanish fleet off Algeciras (approximately 142 clasps awarded). Frank Cutler (Cutter in Douglas-Morris's roll) is confirmed on the published rolls as Volunteer 1st Class, H M S Caesar, Admiral Saumarez's flagship [3 / 20 clasps to the ship].

Commander Frank Cutler entered the Navy as a First Class Volunteer in April 1800 aboard H M S Caesar - 80, Captain James Saumarez, and served in her at the battle off Algeciras on 12th July 1801 and six days later in the engagement near Cadiz. Transferred into the Minerve -48, in December 1802, he was still in her on 2nd July 1803 when she ran aground under the Cherbourg batteries and was forced, after a spirited resistance, to surrender. After almost six years as a prisoner-of-war, Cutler escaped in June 1809 between which time and his promotion to Lieutenant in March 1812, he served in various ships on several stations including the Channel and the Baltic as well as accompanying an East India convoy. During his time in the sloop Clio -18, he commanded her boats at the capture of the French privateer Le Pilotin in a joint operation with H M S Hamadryad off Hermeren, whilst his last wartime appointment was to the Medway -74, flagship at the Cape of Good Hope. Placed on half-pay in April 1816, he was for some years British Vice-Consul at Bordeaux and received final promotion to Commander in 1854.

ex Glendining's, January 1943.

- 20 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Trafalgar (William Bath), about extremely fine. £1500-2000

FLEET ACTION: 21st October 1805 (approximately 1,710 clasps awarded). William Bath is confirmed on the published rolls as Yeoman of Sheets, H M S Defiance [6 / 37 clasps to the ship].

ex J.B. Hayward, December 1970.

- 21 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, 4 Novr. 1805 (William Lloyd), lightly scuffed and marked but extremely fine. £800-1000

For the destruction of the remainder of the French fleet after Trafalgar, off Finisterre (approximately 296 clasps awarded). William Lloyd is confirmed on the published rolls as Landsman, H M S Hero [6 / 50 clasps to the ship]. Message notes that this medal was "given to his widow" (Greenwich Hospital roll refers). Several recipients of this name on the rolls, two of them Syria men.

ex Sotheby's, April 1902.

- 22 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, St. Domingo (Lachlan Hutton), traces of old brooch mounting on obverse and suspension sometime disassembled and then reconstructed, fine. £250-300

FLEET ACTION - for Admiral Duckworth's destruction of the French fleet off St. Domingo on 6th February 1806 (approximately 396 clasps awarded). Lachlan Hutton is confirmed on the published rolls as Able Seaman, H M S Superb, Sir John Duckworth's flagship [6 / 56 clasps to the ship].

ex Glendining's, December 1947.

- *23 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Stately 22 March 1808 (Geo. Shreeves), very fine. £1500-2000

For the destruction of the Danish man-o'-war Prince Christian Frederick off the north-east coast of Jutland on 22nd March 1808 (approximately 62 clasps awarded, 31 to each of the two ships involved).

George Shreeve[s] is confirmed on the published rolls as an Ordinary Seaman, H M S Stately [31 to the ship] although they state a further entitlement to the clasp for 25 July Boat Service 1809 as a Midshipman in H M S Princess Charlotte. Curiously however, no officer named Shreeve or Shreeves is noted in the definitive list of Commissioned Sea Officers of the Royal Navy, 1660-1815, Marshall's Royal Naval Biography or any similar reference work. Matters are further complicated by Message's (and Newnham's) listing of a George Shreeves in H M S Nassau, the other participating vessel in this action, which the former then qualifies by stating "possibly the same man as George Shreeve" [H M S Stately], whereas Douglas-Morris lists no Shreeve or Shreeves in his list of Nassau claimants. Sufficient to say that there is no other George Shreeve or Shreeves in the entire N.G.S. roll and this medal is undoubtedly 'as issued'.

ex Glendining's, June 1952, and Baldwin's, February 1954.

- *24 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Onyx 1 Jany. 1809 (H. Dutchman, Clerk), obverse rather marked but very fine and toned and excessively rare, only five awarded. £6000-8000

For the capture of the Dutch brig Manly in the North Sea. Hewson (or Heusen) Dutchman is confirmed on the published rolls as Clerk, H M S Onyx [5 to the ship].

ex Glendining's, February 1936.

- 25 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Martinique (Edward George Elliott), good very fine. £600-800

For the capture of the West Indian island of Martinique on 24th February 1809 (approximately 486 clasps awarded).

The various published rolls are all at variance with regard to Edward George [or George Edward] Elliott, H M S Forester. Douglas-Morris and Newnham both note his entitlement to two clasps, including Guadeloupe, whereas Message states Guadeloupe only. Similarly, Message only rates him as 'Boy' whereas the others list him as Midshipman, but painstaking research has revealed that each of the earlier roll compilers has confused two entirely different and quite separate recipients with similar names. In consequence, the medal offered here is totally authentic and fully confirmed in Edward George Elliott's own entry in the 1861 (second but unfinished) edition of O'Byrne's Naval Biographical Dictionary for which see his full career details."

- 26 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, 1 Nov. Boat Service 1809 (W. Dickson), naming weak from old edge bruising and possible erasure (?), otherwise about very fine and toned. £500-600

For the capture and destruction of four armed vessels and seven out of a convoy off Rosas on the coast of Spain (approximately 110 clasps awarded).

The published rolls confirm William Dickson as Quarter Gunner, H M S Topaze [4 / 17 clasps to the ship] although both state a further entitlement to the Boat Service clasp for 8 April 1814 (D.-M. does not, however, recognise the two entries as the same recipient). Since the only other William Dickson on the Admiralty roll is a Midshipman at Algiers, whose rank would probably have appeared on his medal, it seems likely that the medal offered here is one of two issued to the same seaman as the result of separate applications.

- 27 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, 27 Sep. Boat Service 1810 (John Foote), better than very fine. £800-1000

For the boat action involving the capture of two French brigs off Pointe de Ché, in the Basque Roads (approximately 33 clasps awarded).

John Foote is confirmed on the published rolls as Lieutenant, H M S Caledonia although the Admiralty roll also cites another John Foote with an entitlement for Syria. Whilst any medal to an officer would normally be expected to carry that officer's rank, at least one exception to this rule is known to the cataloguer and there are almost certainly others, albeit probably few in number, in existence.

Captain John Foote entered the Navy as a First Class Volunteer in November 1797 and was soon in action on 27th June 1798 when his ship, H M S Seahorse -46, captured the French frigate La Sensible in a close action in the Mediterranean. After being made Lieutenant in May 1804, he served as Signal-Lieut. on several flagships in both the Mediterranean and the Channel. Wounded and captured by a Spanish privateer whilst commanding the gunboat Hannah in October 1806, he was later released and resumed his career with command of the sloop Rapid. Promoted Captain in 1827, he later commanded the Madagascar -44 on the coast of Africa, retired in 1849 and died in 1853. See his entry in O'Byrne for further information.

ex [Sotheby's, November 1912?] and Glendining's, September 1961.

- 28 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Java (Charles Gates), obverse scratches but otherwise very fine or rather better. £500-600

For the capture of the island of Java, July-September 1811 (approximately 665 clasps awarded). Charles Gates is confirmed on the published rolls as Landsman, H M S Cornelia [2 / 23 clasps to the ship].

ex Glendining's, October 1921, and Baldwin's, February 1954.

- 29 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Java (Abraham Hurle), the final two letters of the surname expertly engraved to rectify an obvious naming error, extremely fine, attractively toned. £400-600

Abraham Hurle is confirmed on the published rolls as Corporal, Royal Marines, H M S Samarang [- / 8 clasps to the ship], but as Abraham 'Hurt'.

ex Glendining's, April 1949.

- 30 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Victorious with Rivoli (Jos. Ray), impressed off-centre, very fine. £500-700

For the capture of the French -74 Rivoli off Venice on 22nd February 1812 (approximately 67 clasps awarded).

Joseph Ray is confirmed on the published rolls as Midshipman, H M S Victorious although the Admiralty roll also cites two other recipients of this name, one with an entitlement for Navarino and the other for Syria (Armourer, H M S Implacable). Whilst any medal to an officer would normally be expected to carry that officer's rank, at least one exception to this rule is known to the cataloguer and there are almost certainly others, albeit probably few in number, in existence.

Lieutenant Joseph Ray was wounded during the action to take the Rivoli and thereafter served on the North American, West Indian and Leith stations during which time his ship, the Woolwich -44, was wrecked in a hurricane off Barbuda on 6th November 1813. After cruising off the French coast in the Liffey -50 whilst Napoleon was at large following his escape from Elba, Ray then served in various ships until 1823 when he was made Lieutenant. For more details of his career, see the recipient's entry in O'Byrne.

- 31 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Hebrus with L'Etoile (John Jones), very fine. £400-600

For the celebrated capture of the French frigate L'Etoile by H M S Hebrus off Alderney on 27th March 1814 (approximately 40 clasps awarded).

The published rolls confirm John Jones, Ordinary Seaman, H M S Hebrus, although there are numerous recipients with this name on the Admiralty Roll, and Douglas-Morris states a further entitlement to the clasp Algiers which is not noted by Message.

- 32 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, 14 Dec. Boat Service 1814 (Jas. Hunter, Midshipman), traces of old brooch mounting on obverse and suspension almost certainly refixed, nearly very fine. £800-1200

For the destruction of guardships off New Orleans prior to the assault (approximately 205 clasps awarded).

James Hunter is confirmed on the published rolls as Master's Mate, H M S Bedford [3 / 16 clasps to the ship] although Message notes that two medals are known, the other named to the recipient as a Master's Mate.

Lieutenant James Hunter entered the Navy as a First Class Volunteer aboard the frigate Thalia in January 1807. He then followed his Captain, James Walker, into the Bedford -74, and served with him for eight years, principally as Midshipman and Master's Mate, on the Home, South American, North Sea, West India and North America stations. In 1807 he was part of the escorting force which conveyed the Portuguese Royal Family to Brazil and in December 1814 he was in action in America. Whilst serving with the boats of a squadron which took five U.S. gunboats on Lake Borgne, Hunter was amongst the heavy British casualties of 17 killed and 77 wounded, suffering a shot through his left hand and two wounds to his face. In consideration of his gallantry and sufferings, he was given the command of one of the prizes, the Harlequin, which he took to Bermuda where he was paid off the following June. Whilst his conduct in America brought about his speedy promotion to Lieutenant (27th February 1815), he did not receive any monetary compensation for his wounds and likewise saw no further service with the result that he took a command in the Merchant Marine.

ex Glendining's, January 1918, and Baldwin's, February 1954.

- 33 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Syria (Henry K. Bamber, Purser), a few light marks but extremely fine. £300-350

FLEET ACTION - off the coast of Syria, November 1840. Henry K. Bamber is confirmed on the published rolls as Paymaster Purser, H M S Carysfort, a rank to which he had been appointed on 5th January 1808.

- 34 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 2 clasps, 1 June 1794, 23rd June 1795 (Robt. Allen), extremely fine. £1000-1200

BOTH FLEET ACTIONS: Whilst Douglas-Morris confirms this 2-clasp medal to Robert Allen, Quarter-Gunner, H M S Pegasus [- / 7 clasps to the ship] and Midshipman, H M S Aquilon [2 / 4 clasps to the ship], Message contends that Allen should be entitled to a 4-clasp medal including Phoebe 21 December 1797 and 7 July Boat Service 1809 (D.-M. also notes these but as different claimants). Matters are further complicated by the fact that Allen is stated to be a Midshipman at 23rd June 1795 yet, if Message is correct, reduced to a Yeoman of the Sheets for the two later actions, surely an unlikely occurrence? However, Douglas-Morris then notes that the rate on the 1795 clasp list to which he referred is given as 'Mid Ship Man' suggesting an alternative - albeit unofficial - rate. Whatever the correct entitlement, there is only one Robert Allen on the Admiralty roll, the medal here appears entirely 'as issued' and the most probable explanation is two medals given to the same recipient.

- 35 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 2 clasps, Nile, Gut of Gibraltar 12 July 1801 (James Green), very fine. £600-800

James Green is confirmed on the published rolls as Able Seaman, H M S Zealous for the Nile [- / 17 clasps to the ship] and the same rate, H M S Venerable [3 / 19 clasps to the ship] for the Gut of Gibraltar. Seven other James Greens on the rolls, including three Syria men.

- 36 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 2 clasps, 16 July Boat Service 1806, Centaur 26 Augt. 1808 (John James), very fine. £300-500

The published rolls all confirm John James as the recipient of a 3-clasp medal, the two above plus 4 February Boat Service 1804, and indeed the medal itself resurfaced in the Stansfeld Collection (Spink Auction, 15th June 1984, lot 60) after previously residing in the Whalley Collection (1877).

However, the coincidence of an early forger pairing the two later clasps of 1806 and 1808 without the additional first clasp of 1804 seems unlikely and begs the question that the medal here might have been an incomplete official issue subsequently replaced for the recipient by a correct 3-clasp award.

Numerous recipients of this name on the roll, including four for Trafalgar and two Syria men.

- *37 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 2 clasps, Stately 22 March 1808, Basque Roads 1809 (George Bell), extremely fine and lightly toned. £1800-2200

George Bell is confirmed on the published rolls as Ordinary Seaman, H M S Stately [31 clasps to the ship] and Able Seaman, H M S Illustrious [3 / 22 clasps to the ship] for the Basque Roads.

The only other George Bell on the roll received a medal with bar St. Domingo.

ex Whalley Collection, 1877, and Glendining's, September 1961.

- *38 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 2 clasps, Martinique, Anse La Barque 18 Decr. 1809 (William Batt, Midshipman), about extremely fine, with old riband brooch. £1200-1500

All the published rolls confirm William Batt, Midshipman, H M S Express [1 / 1 clasps to the ship] for the capture of Martinique but none list the second clasp for Anse La Barque.

Commander William Batt was born in February 1793 and entered the Navy in 1800 - at the age of 7! - as a First Class Volunteer on board the Eurydice -24. Paid off in March 1803 after a round trip to the East Indies, he then joined the Lily - 18 in January 1805 only to be captured by privateers and held ashore for several months at Cumana, South America. After rejoining the Lily, he saw action at the capture of the Columbian Leander -22, and afterwards at the attack on La Villa de Coro in the Spanish West Indies. Subsequently transferred into the gunbrig Express, he was present at several of the actions resulting in the capture of Martinique and was wounded at one of them. Employed on various stations from 1812 onwards, he was made Lieutenant in March 1815, thereafter remaining on half-pay until he joined the Coast Blockade in 1829 and thence the Coast Guard in 1831. Promoted Commander in 1856, he died the following year.

There is no reference to the action at Anse La Barque in Batt's entry in O'Byrne or of his service in any of the ships engaged there; also, regrettably, he does not appear in Marshall's Royal Naval Biography. It seems possible that, as a result of his wound at Martinique, he may have been put ashore to convalesce and somehow managed to accompany the Anse La Barque expedition in another vessel. There is however no evidence for this although the medal offered here appears to be 'as issued' to this officer.

- 39 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 2 clasps, Java, Syria (John Thomas), good very fine. £600-800

John Thomas is confirmed on the published rolls as Able Seaman, H M S Leda [3 / 19 clasps to the ship] for Java and the same rate, H M S Edinburgh, for Syria.

Numerous other recipients of this name on the roll, several of which were single clasp Syria men.

ex Glendining's, June 1913.

- *40 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 3 clasps, 1 June 1794, 23rd June 1795, 12 Octr. 1798 (G.N. Tremlett, Midshipman), sometime harshly cleaned and suspender possibly refixed, otherwise very fine. £1500-2000

Whilst the published rolls all confirm George N. Tremlett, Midshipman, H M S Queen [5 / 14 clasps to the ship] for the Glorious First of June, the other two are confirmed by Newnham as well as Douglas-Morris, the latter with the notation for both "verified aboard. Not on roll". This would explain why Message only lists the single clasp 1st June 1794 even though full participation in the other actions is confirmed in Tremlett's entry in O'Byrne and his 3 clasp medal in the Navy List of 1854.

Commander George Neat Tremlett, the brother of Admiral William Tremlett, was born in 1769 and joined the Navy in 1780 as a Master's Servant aboard the Beaver -14, lying at Exmouth. After seeing action in the American War of Independence, he served in numerous ships before joining H M S Queen in which he was present at the Glorious 1st of June 1794. Made Lieutenant two months later, he was serving in the Thalia for the action on 23rd June 1795 and was in Foudroyant for Sir John Borlase Warren's action off Tory Island on 12th October 1798 which saved Ireland from a French invasion. His sea-going career continued until 1805 when, perhaps as a result of eight months as an invalid in 1799-1800, he was given the command of the Signal Station at Cromer, a post he retained until May 1814. Placed on the list of Retired Commanders in 1830, Tremlett died in 1865. By coincidence, his distinguished brother was also the victim of an issuing error with his N.G.S. and eventually complained to the Admiralty (see the Douglas-Morris Roll for details).

- *41 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 3 clasps, Martinique, Pompee 17 June 1809, Guadeloupe (Thomas Hitchcock), very fine. £1500-1800

Although the published rolls confirm Thomas Hitchcock, Ordinary and then Able Seaman, H M S Pompee for all three clasps, this recipient appears to have received three medals in all. Initially sent a 2-clasp medal for Martinique and Guadeloupe (ex Sotheby's, May 1910), he then received an "additional claim" 1-clasp medal for Pompee 17 June 1809 (ex Colonel Murray Collection, Sotheby's, 1926) before eventually receiving his correct 3-clasp medal offered here.

- *42 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 3 clasps, Java, Algiers, Navarino (William Bray), small cut on Queen's cheek, otherwise good very fine. £1200-1500

All the published rolls confirm William Bray, Boy 3rd Class, H M S Illustrious [14 / 54 clasps to the ship] for Java, Ordinary Seaman, H M S Albion [18 / 90 clasps to the ship] for Algiers, and Captain of the Maintop, H M S Asia, Sir Edward Codrington's flagship [26 / 212 clasps to the ship] for Navarino.

- *43 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 3 clasps, 1 Nov. Boat Service 1809, Lissa, Pelagosa 29 Novr. 1811 (Dennis Sullivan); together with 1 clasp, 1 Nov. Boat Service 1809 (Dennis Sullivan), both a little marked but otherwise extremely fine, a rare example of two genuine medals issued in error which have remained together. (2) £2500-3500

Approximately 110 1 Nov. Boat Service 1809 clasps awarded, 124 for Lissa and only 64 for Pelagosa.

Whilst Message confirms Dennis Sullivan's 3-clasp medal, Newnham and Douglas-Morris both fail to realise that their two recipients (1-clasp Boat Service and 2-clasps Lissa, Pelagosa) are, in fact, one and the same. There is also some confusion about Sullivan's rate for his Boat Service action in H M S Topaze - Newnham states Ordinary Seaman, Douglas-Morris states Landsman and Message says "no rate given"; mercifully, all rolls agree that Sullivan served as a Private, Royal Marines, H M S Active, for the two later clasps.

ex Whalley Collection, 1877, and Glendining's, June 1952.

- 44 MILITARY GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1814, 1 clasp, Egypt (J. Blake, 8th Foot), a few light scuffs but extremely fine and toned. £500-550

97 Maida clasps to the regiment which sustained, along with the 81st, the battle's heaviest casualties.

- 46 MILITARY GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1814, 1 clasp, Vimiera (J. Robinson, 9th Foot), one or two very light scratches on obv., otherwise good extremely fine and toned. £350-400

 84 clasps for Toulouse, the final action of the Peninsular War, to the 1st Life Guards.
 By 1850 this recipient had reached the rank of Lieutenant (1847) & Riding Master in the 1st Life Guards and Hart's Army List of that year also confirms his Peninsular service and clasp entitlement (sold with confirmation).
- 59 MILITARY GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1814, 2 clasps, Roleia, Vimiera (John Smart, 45th Foot), some light scratches on both sides but otherwise extremely fine. £450-500

 Despite only a cursory reference (without clasp details) to Weld in Mullen's Roll (under Field Train Department of the Ordnance), his two-clasp entitlement is fully confirmed in Sharpe's The Field Train Department, in Kane's List of Artillery Officers (Field Train Department), and also in Army Officers' Awards - Napoleonic Period, publ. 1853 and reprinted in 1969.
Erasmus Weld joined the service as a Conductor in January 1805, being promoted Clerk in August of the same year. Wodehouse, Capt., 50th Foot), all four clasp facings lacking but the medal still supports the carriage and backstraps from which they have been removed, contact marked but very fine. £500-700
- Despite no mention of this officer in either of the published rolls, his campaign service is confirmed in Hart's Army Lists, viz. "Lieut.-General Wodehouse served in Portugal from May 1808 to Dec. 1811, including the battle of Vimiera, campaign from Lisbon to Oporto, and battle of Busaco and Fuentes d'Onor; served in the campaign of 1814 in the South of France, including the affair at Tarbes and battle of Toulouse. He has received the Silver War Medal with four Clasps."
- Lieutenant-General Nicholas Wodehouse was born in 1790 and joined the 9th Foot as an Ensign in January 1807, being promoted Lieut. later the same year. Transferring into the 50th Regiment where he was made Captain in 1811, he became Lieut.-Colonel in 1824 where he remained until retiring on half-pay in 1848. Appointed Colonel of the 3rd Foot (The Buffs) in January 1857, he received his final promotion to Lieut.-General that September and died at his Sonning home in Berkshire on 11th December the same year.

Campbell, Major & Brigade Major, R. Brig. 3rd Divn.), brilliant, prooflike and practically mint state, extremely rare and the only officer's 14-clasp medal amongst the eleven awarded; in fact, the medal with the largest number of clasps bestowed upon any officer in the British Army. £3000-4000

Lieutenant-Colonel James Campbell began his army career by purchasing into the 45th Foot as an Ensign & Lieutenant in October 1801, being made Adjutant in November 1803. Promoted Captain in December 1808, he received the brevet of Major in March 1814 and was made Lieut.-Colonel on 21st January 1819.

He saw his first action with the regiment in the Cape of Good Hope in 1806 when the colony was seized from the Dutch and, with those operations completed, he then accompanied the 45th to South America where he took part in the attack on Buenos Aires that same year. Taken prisoner but released in time to join the general evacuation, he returned home after a year and a half overseas before being sent with the Army to Portugal in 1808. Present at the battles of Roleia, Vimiera and Talavera, he went home briefly but came back in 1810 to rejoin the Army before Lisbon. After being in action at Fuentes D'Onor, he then acted as Engineer at the first siege of Badajoz before proceeding to the siege and storming of Ciudad Rodrigo. Slightly wounded at the second siege and storming of Badajoz, where he was appointed Brigade-Major to Sir James Kempt's brigade in the 3rd Division, he was then present with the brigade at Salamanca, at the surrender of the Retiro at Madrid and the subsequent retreat back into Portugal. Re-entered Spain with the brigade, this time under Sir Thomas Brisbane, and was present at the battles of Vittoria, the Pyrenees, Nive, Nivelles, Orthes - where he was made Major - and Toulouse. With the Peninsular War at an end, he embarked with the troops for North America where he took part in the attack on Plattsburg during the abortive campaign on Lake Champlain in the autumn of 1814, again as Brigade-Major to General Sir Thomas Brisbane. Returning to France in July 1815, he first took up an appointment as a Brigade-Major in the 7th Division until, on the formation of the Army of Occupation (in France), he transferred to the 1st Brigade of the old 3rd Division in which he had seen so much service in the Peninsula.

Although all the published rolls confirm the award of a 14-clasp medal to this Staff Officer, each of them notes his parent unit as the 50th Foot whereas The Royal Military Calendar (publ. 1820) - in which the best account of his services is to be found - speaks only of his regimental duties with the 45th Regiment. Similarly, the curious absence of this officer from Hart's Army Lists of circa 1848, coupled with the numerous other James Campbells serving at that date, makes this recipient's later career somewhat difficult to trace and leaves scope for further research.

- *80 FIELD OFFICER'S SMALL GOLD MEDAL, inscribed for Nive (Capt. L. Carmichael, RI. Horse Arty.), extremely fine, with gold riband buckle as issued. £4000-5000
- Major Lewis Carmichael joined the Royal Artillery as a Second Lieutenant on 1st March 1798 and was made Lieutenant on 2nd October the following year. Promoted Second Captain on 1st December 1805 and Captain on 22nd July 1813, he received his brevet of Major on 27th October 1814. After service in Egypt in 1801 and South America in 1807, he saw limited service in the Peninsula, being present at the Battle of Nive (December 1813) for which he received a gold medal. Thereafter sent to the United States, he participated in the attacks on Washington (24th August 1814), Baltimore (12th September 1814) and New Orleans (8th January 1815), returning home after the ending of hostilities. He died at his home in Elgin on 21st September 1823.

- 97 NEW ZEALAND, 1845-1866, rev undated (Lt. Col. Wm. Pym Young, 65th Foot), good very fine and toned. £400-600

Lieutenant-Colonel William Pym Young joined the Army in 1830 and gained his last promotion in 1860. He commanded a wing of the 65th at Taranaki, New Zealand, during the War of 1860-61, and had his horse shot from under him at the action on 23rd February 1861. Afterwards commanded the 65th in the field operations under Sir Duncan Cameron from 20th January 1864 until the end of hostilities in Upper Waikato (medal & M.I.D.). Soon after returning home, the recipient retired by sale of his commission.

- 98 NEW ZEALAND, 1845-1866, rev undated (Corpl. H.J.G. Gant, V.C.P.W.M.), officially (?) renamed, the reverse centre unofficially engraved "Corpl. H.J.G. Gant, 1st Regt. 5th Compy. V.C.P.W.M. 1864", very fine and interesting. £80-120

- 99 PUNJAB, 1848-1849, 1 clasp, Chilianwala (T. Gardner, 24th Foot), very fine. £140-160

Roll states that the recipient died on 18th November 1848 and, in consequence, was entitled only to a medal without clasps.

- *100 SIR HARRY SMITH'S MEDAL FOR GALLANTRY, 1851 (unnamed as issued), pierced at 12 o'clock for suspension and with a second attempted piercing at 9 o'clock where edge is also bruised, otherwise very fine and very rare; sold with a detached straight suspender believed to be from this medal. (2) £800-1200

The late Dr F K Mitchell stated that, in his opinion, approximately 30 of these medals were awarded and surviving examples are offered for sale only very occasionally.

- *101 BALTIC, 1854-1855 (C. Thompson, Corpl., Rl. Artillery), officially impressed in the correct Crimea style, good very fine and scarce, with foliate silver riband brooch (lacks pin). £400-600

Although the accepted wisdom is that the only impressed Baltic medals were those issued to the Royal Sappers & Miners, the medal offered here has every appearance of being an official issue and is therefore something of an enigma. This is further compounded by the fact that no other Baltic medals were supposedly granted to men of the Royal Engineers leaving the only plausible explanation as an officially authorised 'late claim'. The cataloguer does, however, know of one other impressed Baltic medal to an Artilleryman (Asst. Surgeon H. Clifford) which was sold by Glendining's on 27th April 1983.

- *102 CRIMEA, 1854-1856, 1 clasp, Azoff (Mark Schofield [sic], Coxn. Bge., H M S Albion), engraved in upright serifed caps., about very fine and an interesting medal. £300-500

Allowing for the surname discrepancy, this medal is apparently to the recipient who won the Victoria Cross at Inkermann on 5th November 1854.

V.C. London Gazette: 24 February 1857 [Seaman Mark Scholefield, with Seamen James Gorman & Thomas Reeves]. "At the Battle of Inkermann on 5 November 1854, when the Right Lancaster Battery was attacked, these three seamen mounted the Banquette, and under a heavy fire made use of the disabled soldiers' muskets, which were loaded for them by others under the parapet. They were the survivors of the five who performed the above action."

Whilst the naming of this medal has every appearance of being entirely genuine and contemporaneous with the Crimean War, it should be noted that neither Scholefield nor H M S Albion receives a mention in The Azoff Campaign, 1855, by Duckers & Mitchell (publ. 1996). Furthermore, when this recipient's V.C. group was sold recently by Spink & Son Ltd. (see Medal Circular, No. 9, April 1998, item 1), it contained a 2-bar officially impressed Crimea Medal for Inkermann and Sebastopol. It is equally notable however, that Scholefield was, latterly, Coxswain of Albion's barge and may have felt himself entitled to the Azoff clasp for some purely peripheral involvement with the operations there.

- 103 CRIMEA, 1854-1856, 1 clasp, Sebastopol (2) (6988 E. Derbridge, 3rd Batt. [---]r. Gds. / [Joseph?] Turner, No. 3074, 14th Reg. [---]), both depot impressed, good to fair, both with heavy contact wear partially obscuring naming details. (2) £100-120

- 104 CRIMEA, 1854-1856, 3 clasps, Alma, Balaklava, Inkermann (Geo. Roper, 68th Regt.), officially impressed, good very fine. £250-300

- 105 CRIMEA, 1854-1856, 3 clasps, Alma, Inkermann, Sebastopol (J. Hickey, 88th Regt.), officially impressed, the surname rather clumsily so due to an official correction, otherwise good very fine. £300-400

The published roll confirms that 3264 Pte. James Hickey was killed at the battle of Inkermann, 5th November 1854.

- 106 TURKISH CRIMEA, 1855, British issue (Capt. W. Rice, 2nd Regt.), neatly engraved in upright plain caps. and fitted with swivelling ring suspension, nearly very fine. £60-80

- 112 INDIA GENERAL SERVICE, 1854-1895, 1 clasp, Burma 1885-7 (Lieutt. F. Glanville, R.E.), rank officially corrected, good very fine. £300-350

Temp. Brigadier-General Francis Glanville was born in 1862, the son of Major-General F.R. Glanville, R.E., of Catchpence, Cornwall. Entering the Royal Engineers in 1881, he served in Burma 1886-88, where he was severely wounded (D.S.O., medal & clasp, M.I.D.). After successive promotions, he was made Colonel, 1st May 1911, and became a Temporary Brigadier-General, 4th Feb. 1916, in command of the Bareilly Brigade, Indian Army. Retiring in 1919, General Glanville died in 1938.

 An accompanying ticket states that this recipient was "killed at Majuba" which is confirmed in Lovell & Prior's casualty list although they note his Christian name as 'Michael'. General Sir George Colley's last stand at Majuba Hill on 27th February 1881 was the worst disaster in the calamitous First Boer War of 1880-81 for which, not surprisingly, no British campaign medal was sanctioned.

After being educated at Radley, he joined the Cheshires for service in South Africa in 1902 (medal & 3 clasps) and then transferred into the Militia. Volunteering for active service again after the outbreak of the Great War, he commanded his old battalion for 2½ years before he was killed in action at Pip Ridge, Doiran, Macedonia (Serbia) on 18th September 1918, the circumstances being outlined in the following Army Order from the General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Allied Armies of the Orient: "12th Battalion Cheshire Regiment - a marvellous Battalion which has shown the finest qualities of courage, enthusiasm and endurance. On 18th September, 1918, gallantly led by Lieut.-Colonel Clegg-Hill in person, it rushed to the assault of a strongly fortified position, showing a magnificent spirit of self-sacrifice. In spite of a cross-fire from artillery, trench mortars and machine guns, and of the loss of its Commanding Officer, who fell mortally wounded, the Battalion continued to advance, making light of its heavy casualties, and thereby giving a glorious example of heroism, and maintaining the loftiest traditions of the British Army."

Campaign Medals

- *455 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, striking without clasps or suspension, a few light marks on obv., otherwise practically mint state and attractively toned. £150-200
- 456 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, The Potomac 17th August 1814 (edge stamped 'specimen'), light hairlines and scuffs both sides, otherwise good extremely fine, practically as struck and attractively toned. £200-250
- 457 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 1 clasp, Endymion wh. President (edge stamped 'specimen'), hairline scratches both sides but good extremely fine, practically as struck and attractively toned. £200-250
- *458 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 4 clasps, Copenhagen 1801, Trafalgar, Martinique, St. Sebastian (edge stamped 'specimen'), hairline scratches both sides but good extremely fine, practically as struck and attractively toned. £300-350
- 459 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 5 clasps, 1 June 1794, St. Vincent, Camperdown, Nile, Egypt (edge stamped 'specimen'), hairline scratches both sides but good extremely fine, practically as struck and attractively toned. £350-400

- *460 NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1840, 6 clasps, 1 June 1794, St. Vincent, Camperdown, Nile, Egypt, Java (edge stamped 'specimen'), hairline scratches both sides but good extremely fine, practically as struck and attractively toned. £350-400

It should be noted that the clasps on this and the preceding four lots are not the issued clasps with which medal collectors are familiar. When these specimen medals were struck by the Royal Mint towards the end of the nineteenth century, the original slips - which had, in fact, been produced under contract by Hunt & Roskell - were no longer available and thus the Mint made these slightly narrower replacement clasps to remedy the deficiency. As to why these particular specimen medals were struck at all, it appears that they were produced to satisfy a demand by certain institutions and museums which had requested display material for their collections.

- 461 MILITARY GENERAL SERVICE, 1793-1815, striking without clasps or suspension, good very fine but rather dull toned. £70-100

- *462 WATERLOO, 1815, with conventional steel clip and ring suspension, a few trivial marks but practically mint state and toned. £150-250

Unlike the specimen Naval General Service medals discussed above, it is equally clear that the majority of specimen strikings offered in this catalogue are probably contemporary with the issue of the medals themselves.

- *463 WATERLOO, 1815, another similar medal but fitted with a straight suspension similar to the Military and Naval General Service awards, practically mint state and attractively toned. £150-250

- *464 WATERLOO, 1815, striking without suspension of the pattern medal by Thomas Wyon Jnr, after Sir Thomas Lawrence's portrait, obverse draped and laureate bust of the Prince Regent turned to the left, rev as the issued medal, 41mm (BHM [British Historical Medals, 1760-1960, vol. 1, Laurence Brown, 1980] 880; Tancred 79), practically mint state and attractively toned, a beautiful example of excessive rarity. £300-500

According to George Tancred's seminal work of 1891, this medal was designed as a reward for those officers present at the battle of Waterloo but eventually rejected as being too large and thus never issued. See Tancred and also Brown for further information.

- *465 WATERLOO, 1815, circular strikings without suspensions (3), of a small and somewhat crude copy of the issued Waterloo Medal, by an unknown maker, 20mm, (BHM 882), two nicked on edge but good very fine and all scarce as well as interesting. (3) £100-120

- 466 GHUZNEE & CABUL, 1842, with original steel clip and bar suspension, head of screw securing suspension damaged, contact marked and scuffed both sides from careless handling, good very fine. £100-150

- *467 DEFENCE OF KELAT-I-GHILZIE, 1842, gold striking without suspension (45.5gms., certainly 18ct. and possibly 22ct. gold), matt surfaces for probable casing in lunettes, a few edge blemishes including one old test-mark(?), otherwise good very fine and excessively rare. £300-400

These and similar gold specimens of other early India medals were struck as presentation pieces for eminent personalities; the cataloguer knows of two - one given to the Duke of Wellington and another to an unknown recipient.

- 468 DEFENCE OF KELAT-I-GHILZIE, 1842, striking without suspension, good very fine; and a similar though uniface bronzed lead impression of the medal's reverse, very fine and interesting. (2) £100-150

- 469 FIRST CHINA WAR, 1842, striking of the issued medal but with Second China War cusped and swivelling suspension, practically mint state and attractively toned. £100-150

- 470 FIRST CHINA WAR, 1842, another similar striking of the issued medal but with Second China War cusped and swivelling suspension, practically mint state and attractively toned. £100-150

- 471 FIRST CHINA WAR, 1842, circular striking without suspension; together with others similar for India General Service (1854) and Indian Mutiny (1857) medals, all scuffed from careless handling, especially the China, but generally good very fine. (3) £100-120
- 472 SCINDE CAMPAIGN, 1843, rev Meeanee, 1843, with correct hinged clip and bar suspension, extremely fine and toned. £200-250

- According to BBM, only one medal was issued with these dates spanning both phases of the Maori Wars, namely the example to Colonel R.H. McGregor, 65th Regiment, now in the Napier Museum in New Zealand.
- 488 NEW ZEALAND, 1845-1866, rev dated 1847 (edge stamped 'specimen' in two places), scuffed and lightly marked both sides from careless handling, otherwise good extremely fine, very rare. £100-150

- 493 ASHANTEE, 1873-1874, no clasp, with undated edge, good very fine. £80-100

- All the standard works of reference state that the final clasp of the East & West Africa medal bore the single date 1900. A plausible explanation for this apparently unrecorded clasp dated 1900-01 may be that, when Queen Victoria died in January 1901, it was felt more appropriate to reward the service which this clasp was to reflect with one of the early clasps of the new Africa General Service medal of 1902 then under preparation. Whether or not this was the case may be discovered with further research.

- *505 THIRD CHINA WAR, 1900, 1 clasp, Defence of Legations (edge marked 'specimen' in two places), obverse rather scuffed but otherwise good extremely fine and toned; a rare specimen made more so by the muling of the correct reverse die with the distinctive portrait die used to strike the obverses of the Cape of Good Hope General Service medal. £200-300

No.-3791'); and Territorial War Medal (stamped 'Specimen.-68-T.F.-1844'), the B.W.M. lacquered, otherwise all extremely fine. (5) £40-60

- The lack of a maker's plate for Messrs. Phillip's, the manufacturers of these medals until 1902, suggests that this badge and the one in the following lot are Royal Mint productions and possibly those included in the sale of the collection of Mr. W. ## CAMPAIGN GROUPS AND PAIRS

- *577 A Peninsular War pair to Major-General B.V. Derinzy, K.H., 81st Foot & Portuguese Army, a four-times wounded officer who commanded the 7th Caçadores at Toulouse where he was promoted "on the Field for distinction", comprising: Field Officer's Small Gold Medal, inscribed for Toulouse (Capt. B. Derenzy (sic), 7th Cacads.), with riband buckle; Military General Service, 1793, 9 clasps, Corunna, Albuhera, Ciudad Rodrigo, Badajoz, Salamanca, Vittoria, Pyrenees, Nivelles, Orthes (B.V. Derinzy, K.H., Lieut. 81st & Capt. 7th Cacadores), extremely fine and each with gilt riband brooch for wearing. (2) £5000-7000

Bartholomew Vigors Derinzy [or Derenzy] was born at Clobemon Hall, Co. Wexford, Ireland, on 10th December 1791 and joined the 81st Foot as an Ensign on 13th May 1806, aged 14½ years. Made Captain in the Portuguese Service in September 1811, he spent the rest of the Peninsular War with various Portuguese units of Caçadores, only resuming his British Army career with an appointment as Captain to the 11th Foot in March 1821. After first seeing action at Corunna - where he was severely wounded in both knees - he then accompanied the expedition to Walcheren in 1808-09 where he took part in the siege and capture of Flushing at which he was wounded in the right arm. Back in the Peninsula from December 1810 (until the conclusion of the War), he was present at the skirmishes at Pombal and Redinha, the recapture of Campo Mayor and the capture of Olivença, the first siege of Badajoz, the affairs at Aldea de Ponte, Osma and Jocauna, the retreat from Madrid, the blockade of Pampeluna, the capture of San Sebastian and innumerable other minor actions in addition to the eight major engagements for which he received battle clasps on his M.G.S. At the battle of Nivelles (10th November 1813), he was so dangerously wounded through the body that he was reported killed whilst at Toulouse he was again twice wounded but refused to quit the field. Rewarded with the British Army's gold medal for Toulouse, he also received the equivalent Portuguese medal, the Portuguese Gold Cross (for four campaigns) and was recommended for the Spanish Cross "for personal distinction" in respect of his conduct at Vittoria.

When the Peninsular War ended with the battle of Toulouse, Derinzy remained in the Portuguese service commanding the 7th Caçadores until assuming command of the 12th Caçadores in 1816, a post he retained until the 1820 revolution at which time he returned home. He then served briefly in Portugal again from Jan. 1827-March 1828 prior to being sent to Corfu until December 1829. Promoted Major (British Army) in 1833 (K.H. 1834) and Lieut. Colonel in 1841, he served ten years with the 86th Foot (1842-52) prior to being made an Inspecting Field Officer, a post he occupied until 7th September 1855 when he retired on full pay with the rank of Major-General. After a long and distinguished career in two national armies, General Derinzy died at his home in Cheltenham on 22nd November 1861.

Punniar is one of the Buff's proudest battle honours and it was there, on 29th December 1843, that the regiment - with a company of Sappers & Miners - commenced the action and "attacked the enemy's centre, exposed to a galling fire from their guns, but most gallantly carried every position before them, drove the enemy from height to height, and captured 11 of his guns and the standard."

Everson's Roll confirms Roberts' medal for service with the 15th & 17th Companies, Sappers & Miners, in the Third Kaffir War and further states that Roberts commanded the 10-man Sapper detachment that accompanied Eyre's column across the Great Kei River in February 1852.

Mate, H M S Eclipse); Khedive's Star for 1882 (unnamed), very fine or better. (4) £400-500

In addition to the normal hazards of life in the Royal Navy, a ticket accompanying this lot states that Knowler survived the dramatic sinking of H M S Captain in 1870 due to being sick and thus ashore at the time of the accident. H M S Captain, 7,767 tons, was a revolutionary yet fundamentally flawed vessel designed with her guns in turrets instead of traditional broadside ranks. Built against a background of bitter controversy among the Naval Establishment, she was completed early in 1870 and, after trials, sailed for Gibraltar on 4th August. Caught in a gale in the Bay of Biscay on the night of 6th-7th August, she heeled over and capsized shortly after midnight and sank within minutes with the loss of almost everyone on board. It was one of the worst peacetime disasters in the long history of the Royal Navy and a source of considerable embarrassment throughout the highest ranks of the service.

- 589 Pair to Sergeant P. Hay, Bengal Sappers & Miners: India General Service, 1854, 3 clasps, Jowaki 1877-8, Burma 1885-7, Burma 1887-89 (Corpl.), clasps officially mounted in reverse order; Afghanistan, 1878, 1 clasp, Ali Musjid (Sergt.), good very fine. (2) £300-350

(5) £350-400

Wright's B.S.A. Company's medal with clasp is confirmed for service with the Matabeleland Relief Force Corps (M.R.F.) in the published Roberts' Roll although the same entry makes an ambiguous reference to a possible duplicate; whether or not this is correct, the medal offered with this group is undoubtedly genuine and an officially named contemporary issue which was clearly mounted together with the recipient's other medals many years ago.

D.C.M. London Gazette: 21 December 1944.

The following Recommendation has been extracted from official sources: "On 30th August (1944), 'D' Coy, 5 / 7th Bn. The Gordon Highlanders was advance guard to the Battalion. The leading platoon, after beating off an enemy counter-attack, was pinned down by heavy Spandau fire. Private Langan's platoon was then ordered to attack in co-operation with a troop of tanks. The number of trees and banks hindered the advance of the tanks and in consequence they were not able to neutralise the enemy fire. The fire came at the platoon from nearly every direction and it appeared for a moment that the attack would be stopped.

Private Langan rose to the occasion; taking command of his section he led the platoon forward, being at times as much as fifty yards ahead of it. Whenever the enemy Spandau fire came especially close he stopped and, using his bren from the hip, he shot it out with the enemy. He disposed of two Spandau's in this way.

Later that day the Company went into action a second time and attacked a village through a thick pine wood. During the advance through the wood Private Langan's Platoon came under withering fire from a Chateau on the right flank. The whole platoon took cover. Private Langan stood up and raked the Chateau with Bren-gun fire. Under cover of his fire another platoon, charging down the slope at top speed took the objective.

It was largely due to the valour and magnificent leadership of Private Langan (now a Sergeant), that these two attacks resulted in such rapid success."

Sold with a copy of the above, together with a similar copy of the recipient's M.M. Recommendation.

M.M. London Gazette: 2 August 1945 (General citation).

The following Recommendation has been extracted from official sources: Bombardier Arthur Morgan, R.A., att'd. Special Boat Service. "On the night of 8th March 1945, Bdr. Morgan was a member of a force attacking 'Villa Punta' on the island of Lussino in the Dalmatian group. In the first phase of the operation Bdr. Morgan was acting as a Bren gunner in an exposed position, directing fire into the windows of the Villa. The enemy returned intense and accurate fire, wounding him seriously in the back. He, however, refused to leave his position and continued firing the Bren gun. In the second phase of the attack he entered the house with the Bren and engaged the enemy in the ground floor rooms. At this stage he received further wounds in the right leg. On the completion of the attack he walked back unaided to the boats, a distance of some four miles over a range of hills. Although suffering from intense pain from his first wounds Bdr. Morgan insisted on carrying on to the objective and completing his task. His complete disregard for his own safety and his persistence in carrying out his duty was an inspiration to all ranks."

Carey was a passenger in a vehicle which was one of several pulled into the side of the road to allow a Scammel to extricate a ditched Sherman. This concentration was suddenly heavily shelled for several minutes and the vehicle immediately behind Dvr. Carey's was hit and set on fire. Seeing this he ran back and assisted a wounded man clear of the area being shelled. Knowing the burning truck to be carrying explosive, Dvr. Carey returned to the vehicles and drove away a jeep abandoned by its driver, so enabling the truck in which he had been travelling to get clear. Shells were still falling immediately beside the road and under this heavy fire Dvr. Carey endeavoured to drive clear a Scammel truck immediately behind the burning vehicle. He failed in this but finding a Sapper severely injured in the ditch, he assisted two other Sappers to carry him clear of the area being shelled and place him on a 15cwt. truck also abandoned by its driver. He then drove this truck with the injured man to the nearest ADS two miles away. Showing complete disregard for his own safety, in full knowledge of the likelihood of an explosion in the burning vehicle, and under heavy shellfire, Dvr. Carey by great coolness and bravery saved the lives of two of his comrades, and allowed other vehicles to get clear of the area under fire."

- 695 A splendid Second World War B.E.M. group of 5 to Aircraftman 1st Class R.W. Chapman, R.A.F.V.R., comprising: British Empire Medal (Military Division), Geo. VI (G.R.I.), for Meritorious Service (A.C.1, R.A.F.V.R.); Campaign Stars for 1939-45 & Africa; Defence & War Medals (these unnamed as issued), mounted loose style for wearing, very fine or better. (5) £300-500

B.E.M. London Gazette: 20 October 1944. "In April 1944, a refueller, containing about 600 gallons of aviation fuel, caught fire whilst alongside a Catalina aircraft. An attempt was made to put out the fire and so save the aircraft from catching alight. The above airmen [Chapman and Robert Sadler Alexander] were in the party which went alongside the refueller in the marine tender to make this attempt but it was found impossible to subdue the fire as the refueller was red hot and the fuel blazed again as soon as the extinguishers had been expended. An attempt to save the aircraft was then made by trying to tow the refueller away. It was fastened to a buoy, however, and a line had to be taken from the marine tender to the refueller which, when pulled, moved the refueller about 5 or 6 feet from the aircraft. Alexander and Chapman dived through this space into the water to disconnect the cable securing the refueller to the buoy but had to abandon their efforts as the heat from the red hot sides of the refueller was too great. These two airmen finally made an attempt to set the aircraft adrift. They dived and managed to unshackle the Catalina from the buoy; it was then towed to safety. Both airmen showed considerable courage in dangerous circumstances. The aircraft which might have caught fire, carried depth charges and had just been refuelled, facts of which they were aware." Chapman (and Alexander) were both originally recommended for the George Medal but this was substituted by the B.E.M.; sold with full confirmation details.

- 698 A modern B.E.M. group of 5 to Acting Warrant Officer 2 C.L.A. Siegel, Dorset Regiment, comprising: British Empire Medal (Military Division), Eliz. ## A Small but Eclectic Selection of Interesting and Unusual Medals and Rewards

- *699 AFGHANISTAN, Order of the Dooranee Empire, Third Class breast badge, unmarked but probably of European manufacture, in gold and enamel, the central medallion surrounded by fourteen pearls, the finely enamelled rev reading '2nd Class (sic), 23rd July 1839', 60mm high (incl. crown suspension), boutonnées lacking from two points, otherwise good extremely fine and of excellent quality, very rare. £1500-2000

Despite its reverse inscription alluding to the '2nd Class', this badge is undoubtedly a Companion's (3rd class) badge fitted with a straight foliate suspension bar and matching brooch (lacks pin) for breast wear.

The Order of the Dooranee Empire was established by Shah Soojah-ool-Moolk to reward those British officers under General Sir John Keane who had participated in the 1839 campaign to restore him to the throne of Afghanistan; the date 23rd July 1839 refers to the capture of Ghuznee, the fall of which fortress precipitated the overthrow of the pretender and the restoration of Shah Soojah.

- *700 BATTLE OF THE GLORIOUS FIRST OF JUNE, 1794, commemorative gold fouled anchor, obv enamelled in blue and white, the plain rev engraved 'Earl Howe, June 1, 1794' on the stock, 41mm (cf. Milford Haven, 1, 432), extremely fine and rare, an attractive souvenir of the first fleet action of the French Revolutionary Wars. £200-300

The battle fought on 1st June 1794 was the first fleet action of the French Revolutionary Wars. Admiral Lord Howe, at sea under orders to prevent a large grain convoy reaching France, had spent several weeks searching for it and its escorting warships under Admiral Joyeuse before finally sighting them on 28th May. A running fight lasting three days ensued, with the French having the advantage of heavy weather. Early on 1st June, with the weather much improved and the two fleets about four miles apart, Lord Howe seized the weather gage and attacked. His strategy was not entirely successful but nevertheless, six French ships-of-the-line were taken as prizes and a seventh, Le Vengeur du Peuple, was sunk after a tremendous duel with H M S Brunswick. The French flagship Montagne was severely damaged, suffering 300 men killed and yet, despite these losses, the convoy of merchantmen escaped Howe's clutches whilst the fleets were engaged and managed to reach the French mainland safely.

- *701 BATTLE OF THE GLORIOUS FIRST OF JUNE, 1794, a similar gold fouled anchor, but without enamelling, stock engraved both sides 'Earl Howe', 'June 1st 1794', 41mm (cf. Milford Haven, 1, 432), extremely fine and rare. £150-200

- *702 BOER WAR TRIBUTE MEDAL, 1899-1901, from Willesden (North West London), oval, the gold and enamel central escutcheon bearing the arms of the borough set within a foliate silver oval suspended from an enamelled brooch, rev engraved W.G.P. Stanbury, Brabant's Horse, 41 x 32½mm (Hibbard A 26), good extremely fine and very rare, one of the most attractive of all the recorded tribute medals. £300-500

This recipient is also confirmed in Hibbard's nominal roll (Appendix 7) listing the 53 borough volunteers who received this medal.

- 703 BOER WAR TRIBUTE MEDAL, 1899-1901, from Durham (?), circular, silver-gilt, rev engraved 'Presented to Pte. A. Hunter, 3rd D.L.I., for Services in South Africa 1900-1901', 30mm (Hibbard A 12), verdigris spot on obv., otherwise good very fine and rare; and a similar but unnamed Norwich award to the Norfolk Volunteers (Hibbard A 19), good very fine but dark toned. (2) £150-200

- *704 CITY OF LONDON POLICE INSPECTOR CHILD'S RETIREMENT MEDAL, 1891, bronze-gilt, by W.M., bust left within legend, rev arms of the City of London dividing 'In Remembrance on my retirement after 32 Years Service; Retired 25 March 1891', 70mm (BHM -), a few minor knocks and scuffs but good very fine, apparently unrecorded and probably very rare. £80-120

Presumably made for Inspector Child to present to colleagues as a memento of his retirement.

- 705 CORONATION OF KING GEORGE IV, 1821, unofficial silver medal, by E. Avern, in imitation of the official medal by Pistrucci, 35mm (edge engraved Lt. Geo. Coals Assough, 1st Regt. B.Y.C.H.), pierced for suspension as usual, very fine and black toned. £80-100

Commissioned and paid for by the Duke of Buckingham and given to those men of the Buckinghamshire Yeomanry Cavalry who had paraded on Coronation Day, 19th July 1821.

- 706 GEDGE MEMORIAL MEDAL, gold Prize Medal, obv four-funnelled cruiser steaming left below 'FOR PROFESSIONAL MERIT', rev twelve-line struck inscription reading 'To commemorate the loss of the first British Officer by Land or Sea in the Great War, Staff-Paymaster Joseph T. Gedge, R.N., who was killed in H M S Amphion, 6th August 1914', 37grms., 38mm (edge engraved Paymaster Sub.-Lieut. Alexander W. Richards, R.N., 1931), practically as struck, in fitted case of issue and a rare medal. £150-250

H M S Amphion, a 'Scout' class cruiser built at Pembroke Dock and launched in December 1911, sank in the North Sea on 6th August 1914 after striking a mine, the first British warship sunk in the Great War; 1 officer (Gedge), 150 men and 18 German prisoners lost their lives.

- 707 GENERAL GORDON'S KHARTOUM STAR, 1884-85, pewter, usual crude local manufacture, good very fine for the issue. £250-300

- *708 ROYAL HOUSEHOLD (?), an unidentified silver-gilt official's (?) badge, finely enamelled with the Royal Arms set within a crowned oval Royal Garter, unmarked but of good quality manufacture, 37mm wide x 64mm high, with reverse brooch pin, some damage to garter enamel, otherwise very fine and interesting. £200-300

- *709 ROYAL HUMANE SOCIETY, 1774, Honorary gold medal, rev engraved 'Iohs. Goodwin, M.D., Propter Optimam Dissertationem de Resus Citatione', 51mm, without suspension as issued, scuffed and lightly marked but good very fine and extremely rare, contained in its contemporary circular shagreen case.

£800-1200

This early gold medal was awarded "for the Best Dissertation on Resuscitation" rather than a practical act of lifesaving but is nonetheless a considerable rarity. Bestowed upon Dr. John Goodwin circa 1800, the precise date eludes the Royal Humane Society whose early records are, by their own admission, "not only confused but confusing." They have confirmed however that a small number of honorary awards were made from time to time in the distant past, usually to doctors or scientists, in response to erudite papers submitted on topics related to lifesaving or resuscitation.

- 710 SCOTTISH NAVAL & MILITARY ACADEMY, silver Prize Medal, hallmarked for Edinburgh, 1847-48, rev attractively engraved "Junr. French; 1st Prize, Mr. John Geddes, 21st July 1848", with loose clasp for Fortification, rev engraved "Mr. John Geddes, 21st July 1848", apart from a small casting flaw on the face of the clasp, good extremely fine, in fitted case of issue, with titled lid. £80-100

- 711 SECOND CRUISER SQUADRON'S "CLOSER UNION" VISIT MEDAL, 1908, silvered bronze, 14 clasps, Durban-Buenos Aires (unnamed as issued), extremely fine, the silvered version [for officers?] very scarce. £200-300

- 712 SECOND CRUISER SQUADRON'S "CLOSER UNION" VISIT MEDAL, 1908, bronze, 14 clasps, Durban-Buenos Aires (unnamed as issued), extremely fine. £150-200

- *713 SIEGE OF KIMBERLEY, 1899-1900, unofficial silver Reward medal, obv railway locomotive left above VALOR (sic), rev engraved 'Sergt. Major Ratcliffe, Kimberley', with swivelling silver suspension and additional sliding riband clasp reading 'KIMBERLEY', 44mm, good very fine and interesting. £100-150

Although two recipients named Ratcliffe [5197 Pte. D., Loyal North Lincs., and 885 L / Cpl. J., Kimberley Volunteer Regt.] have been found amongst the list of men in the Kimberley Garrison during the siege, neither has yet been associated with a suitable incident involving a [possible armoured] train; assuming one of the two is this man, L / Cpl. J. Ratcliffe is the more likely.

- *714 SHIPWRECKED FISHERMEN & MARINERS' ROYAL BENEVOLENT SOCIETY, 1839, Honorary gold medal, obv as lifesaving medal, rev nine-line struck inscription reading 'Presented by the Committee as a mark of their high appreciation of valuable services rendered to the Institution' (engraved Capt. Hon. Fras. Maude, R.N., 1877), with elaborate double-dolphin suspender, very light edge bruising but otherwise extremely fine and an excessively rare, possibly unique, honorary reward. £500-800

Captain The Honorable Francis Maude, R.N. (1798-1886) was the fifth son of the 1st Viscount Hawarden. Entering the Royal Navy as a Cadet in 1811, he was promoted Lieutenant in 1820, Commander in 1827 and retired as Captain in 1856. In addition to his work with the Shipwrecked Fishermen & Mariners' Royal Benevolent Society of which he was a founding member, he was also Treasurer of the Church Missionary Society, Hon. Sec. of the Royal Naval Female School (1840) and Vice-President of the Board of the Dreadnought Seamen's Hospital (1837). When the Shipwrecked Fishermen & Mariners' Benevolent Society was established following an appeal by Admiral Sir George Cockburn in February 1839, Maude was appointed its first chairman; by 1874 he was the sole survivor of the original 1839 committee and this medal appears to have been bestowed upon him when he finally retired.

- 715 SYDNEY (AUSTRALIA) SOUDAN MEDAL, 1885, silver, by E. Jones, arms of Sydney, rev Presented by the citizens of Sydney, T. Playfair, Mayor, 1885 around a laurel wreath, centre engraved T.C. Lavery, 27mm, with integral suspension reading 'Soudan', very fine and scarce. £150-200

- 716 A SILVER CIGARETTE CASE, hallmarked for Chester, 1905-1906, the upper face engraved "Presented to S. Leverett by a few friends, in recognition of his heroic attempt to save a colleague at Berry Head. From T.B.99, 12-7-07", good condition. £60-80

Possibly for an incident involving a seaman lost overboard from Torpedo Boat No. 99 off Berry Head (Torbay).

- *717 A SILVER CIGARETTE CASE, hallmarked for Birmingham, 1907-1908, the upper face bearing the blue-enamelled badge of the Western Province [Cape Colony] Mounted Rifles above a finely enamelled representation of a Queen's South Africa medal, 1899, 1 clasp, Cape Colony, the lower face carrying an enamelled facsimile inscription reading "J.E.L.W. from C.H.R., 1907", slight damage to both enamelled motifs on upper face, otherwise good condition. £300-500

BALAH 'C.H.R.' would seem to be Major Charles Herbert Rankin, D.S.O., late 7th Hussars, a Special Service Officer in South Africa who commanded the Western Provinces' Mounted Rifles from June 1901 until May 1902 (D.S.O., London Gazette: 27 September 1901). He also served with distinction in the Great War being created C.M.G. in 1916 and receiving the brevet of Colonel in June 1918. J.E.L.W. has not been positively identified however although it seems probable that he was J.L. Webster, a Cape of Good Hope Service officer entitled to the Queen's medal with 1 clasp, Cape Colony.

A 4% surcharge will be applied to credit card payments.
13. Buyers accepting commissions from third parties do so at their own risk and will remain responsible to Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. for full settlement according to these conditions.
14. By making a bid the buyer acknowledges his acceptance of these Conditions and shall be bound by them.
15. If any buyer fails to comply with any of these Conditions, the lot or lots in respect of which the failure is made may at the discretion of Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. be put up again and resold. The damages recoverable from the defaulting buyer shall include, but not be limited to, the auctioneers' expenses and commission in respect of the resale and the amount (if any) by which the price obtained on the resale is exceeded by that obtained on the first sale.
16. A variation of these Conditions shall only be binding on Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. and the vendor if it is made in writing and signed by a duly authorised representative of Baldwin's Auctions Ltd.
